

South Asian Media Workshop on Food Safety and Pesticide Contamination
Centre for Science and Environment, New Delhi
August 4-5, 2004

Participant Profiles

Anis, Farhat: Farhat is Assistant Editor of 'Incharge Galaxy', the health and environment section of Karachi (Pakistan)-based daily, The News. She has been with The News for the last 14 years, and has also been associated with Shirkat Gah, an NGO based in Karachi. She has written on issues of food safety, water, genetically modified seeds, and corporatisation of agriculture. She has a master's degree in mass communication. Farhat can be contacted at farhatanis@hotmail.com

Bavadam, Lyla: Lyla is a Special Correspondent in Mumbai with Frontline, a fortnightly of the Hindu group of publications. She covers environment, development, medicines and Maharashtra politics. In her 12 years of journalism, she has also worked with Sunday, a weekly newsmagazine of the Anand Bazar Patrika group, the Sunday Observer, and Blitz. She received the Bellagio Forum Fellowship for Environmental Studies on the Reuters Foundation Fellowship Programme at Green College, Oxford, and the Panos Reproductive Health Media Fellowship in 1998. She has written on issues like Narmada, malnutrition deaths in Amravati, droughts in Maharashtra, industrialisation of Konkan region, etc. Lyla can be reached at lyla@thehindu.co.in

Budhathoki, Gajendra: Gajendra is Senior Assistant Editor at Nepal Samacharpatra National Daily in Kathmandu since 2002. Before this, he worked with various periodicals like Jansatta Weekly, Deshantar Weekly, Lokpatra Daily and Aj Ko Samachar Patra. He has been awarded the Developing Asia Journalism Award for 2004. Gajendra is also the Executive Secretary of Society of Economic Journalists-Nepal. He has been involved in various training programmes of the Nepal Press Institute and the Centre for Investigative Journalism. He can be reached at gajen@journalist.com

Chakraborty, Sanat K: Sanat edits Grassroots Options, a five-times-a-year magazine published from Shillong, Meghalaya. The magazine focuses on environment and development issues concerning India's northeast frontier region, as well as the neighbouring countries that share both opportunities and challenges with the region. Sanat holds a post-graduate degree in International Relations from Jadavpur University (Kolkata) and has been in the profession since 1986. He also works for The Pioneer, New Delhi and contributes articles in both regional and national media on policies and issues on land, forest and other natural resources of the region and researches on ideas that help address them. He has worked on an Asian Institute of Technology (Bangkok)-supported report – the Impact of Logging Ban (by the Indian Supreme Court) on the Tribal Community in West Khasi Hills. His ongoing studies include the role of traditional tribal institutions in the management and control of the community resources in Meghalaya, and the use of participatory three-D modelling in natural resource management with special reference to Garo Hills district, Meghalaya. Sanat can be connected at gosanat@sancharnet.in

Chakraborty, Bhanu Ranjan: A journalist for almost two decades, Bhanu is Intake Editor with ATN Bangla television in Dhaka. He has also worked with Ekushey Television Ltd, The Independent and The Morning Sun. He specialises in conflict reporting, having received training in it from the United Nations and Nordic Consulting Group, British Broadcasting Corporation, and the Asian Mass Communication Research and Information Centre. He holds a master's degree in mass communication and journalism from Dhaka University. He can be reached at bhanuranjan@yahoo.com

Chandan, Dileep: Dileep edits the Assamese weekly Asam Bani, published from Guwahati. He has been with other Assamese publications like Sadin and Dainik Asam. Dileep did his masters in English from Guwahati University and since 1985, has been writing on issues related to the North-East. He has also authored nine books on the various facets of the region. He has been the recipient of various fellowships like the K K Birla Foundation Fellowship for Journalism in 1997. He was also a part of the 10-member group of journalists that visited Johannesburg, South Africa in August 2002, to cover the World Summit on Sustainable Development. He regularly contributes to CSE's environment and science fortnightly Down To Earth and The Statesman, Kolkata. He can be reached at dileepchandan@rediffmail.com

Cooray, Dr Prasanna: Dr Cooray is the health editor of the The Island newspaper in Colombo. He compiles 'Health and Society', a weekly health supplement for the newspaper. He can be contacted at pracoo@itmin.com

Dash, Jatindra: Jatindra has been working as Principal Correspondent in Bhubaneswar, Orissa, for the Indo-Asian News Service (IANS) since 1999. He is also a consulting editor for one of Orissa's leading news agencies, the Purvanchal Media News Service. He writes regularly on a wide variety of issues ranging from development, wildlife and tourism to politics and health. In 2004, Jatindra participated in a media workshop on water policy, organised by the Asian Development Bank in New Delhi. Jatindra can be contacted at jatindash@hotmail.com.

Deulgaonkar, Atul Chandrakant: Atul is a Latur-based freelancer contributing to various Marathi newspapers and periodicals such as Loksatta, Sakal and Lokmat on issues of water depletion and scarcity, food security, agriculture and environmental disasters. He is also a member of the Forum of Environmental Journalists in India (FEJI). He has been awarded the Statesman's rural reporting award. He is also a fellow of CSE's fellowship on 'Making Water Everybody's Business' and wrote on watershed management in Madhya Pradesh. He can be contacted at atulcd@yahoo.com

Devraj, Ranjit: Ranjit is the bureau chief of the Inter Press Service (IPS) in New Delhi, covering development issues of national and international importance. He can be contacted at ranjit@ips.org

Ganapath, Saroj: Saroj is Senior Reporter of the Vikatan group of papers (headquarters in Chennai) in Delhi. He can be contacted at email@ganapathcollection.com

Hardikar, Uday Madhav: Uday has been working as sub-editor cum reporter with the Marathi daily Sakal since 1992 in Pune, before which he was with the daily Kesari. He has been in the profession since 1986, after having completed his Bachelor's degree in journalism from Pune University. He has been writing articles on wildlife and environment. Uday was also a participant at the CSE Air Pollution Workshop held in New Delhi in 2003. He can be contacted at uhardikar@hotmail.com

Jamwal, Prabodh: Prabodh edits Kashmir Times, an English daily, and its Hindi version the Dainik Kashmir Times, both published from Jammu in Jammu and Kashmir. He has 21 years of experience in journalism, and is a member of the organising committee of the South Asian Free Media Association. Kashmir Times has been a keen supporter of non-governmental organisations working to create awareness on all issues. He can be reached at kashmirtimes@rediffmail.com

Karim, Rezaul: Rezaul has been with the Daily Star in Dhaka since 1998 as a Senior Reporter on the political desk, covering politics and parliament. He has also been writing on issues of local governance, NGO affairs, environment and sustainable development. Previously, he was with the United News Of Bangladesh, a private news agency. He was also posted with the Prime Minister's Office for four years. He has been a participant at CSE's South Asian Journalists Workshop on "Environmental Governance" in 2002. He can be reached at rklotus@hotmail.com

Kumar, Payal: Payal is Associate Editor of Sampradaan magazine, an Indian Centre for Philanthropy (New Delhi) publication dealing with issues of social development. She is also a media consultant for the United Nations Population Fund. She was previously working as a features writer for Hindustan Times, Patna edition for a decade. She has been writing for other publications as well, including The Times of India, Femina, Telegraph and the Guardian. She can be reached at payalk1@rediffmail.com

Kumar, Rahul: Rahul is Editor of the One World Asia portal since 2003. He joined One World in 2002, after a four-year stint with The Times of India as Senior Reporter. He has also worked with The Pioneer and The Financial Express. Besides selecting the news for the portal, he is involved in the training programmes conducted by the organisation. He has been writing consistently on environmental issues concerning the city. Rahul received the Chevening Scholarship for Indian Print Journalists from November 2001 to February 2002. He has also contributed to online Telegraph, London. He can be contacted at rahul.kumar@oneworld.net

Madhav, Vinay: Vinay is a Senior Reporter with the New Indian Express, Bangalore, since 1997. He has covered various important beats like crime, high court, wildlife and forest issues. For the last one and a half years, he has been also covering politics, including the secretariat, legislature and political parties. Vinay recently extensively wrote against the Kudremukh Iron Ore company, which was carrying on mining activities in the Western Ghats. Vinay was awarded a CSE fellowship on 'Discovering the deserts' in 2002-03. He can be reached at vinaymadav@yahoo.com

Menon, Manoj: Manoj is a Senior Correspondent with the New Delhi bureau of Mathrubhumi, a leading Malayalam daily. He has been covering social, political and environmental issues for the last decade. He can be reached at bmanojmenon@yahoo.com

Menon, Priya: Priya is a Senior Features Writer with The Indian Express, Chennai since 2000, before which she did an internship in environmental journalism from the Centre for Environment Education, Hyderabad. She has also participated in a Reuters programme on environmental news writing in London. She can be reached at menonpriya_74@rediffmail.com

Naqvi, Nakhat Ara: Nakhat is the Assistant Editor of the New Delhi-based magazine, Agriculture Today. She has done her doctorate in agriculture from Aligarh Muslim University. She can be contacted at nakhat1@rediffmail.com

Nayak, Raju: As Senior Correspondent for Loksatta, a Marathi daily, in Goa, Raju has been covering the state since 1997. He also reports for The Indian Express. Before joining Loksatta, Raju served as Editor for a Konkani daily published from Goa, Sunaparant. During his tenure, the newspaper was at the forefront of covering leading local events such as the agitation against the nylon 6.6 project in Goa. Raju can be contacted at nayakraju@hotmail.com.

Niazi, Shuriah: A journalist for the last eight years, Shuriah is a reporter with Sahara TV and is based in Bhopal. Shuriah has been covering political, social issues and tribal issues, and has worked with Eenadu TV, Central Chronicle and National Mail. Shuriah has also contributed to CNBC and can be reached at shuriahn@yahoo.com

Parsai, Gargi: Gargi is Senior Assistant Editor with The Hindu, New Delhi. She has been writing on development issues for almost two decades with the focus on women, food, agriculture, water and population.

Pathak, Geetartha: Geetartha is an Assistant Editor with Asam Bani, the Assamese daily of the Assam Tribune group. He works from Guwahati in Assam. He also writes regularly for Dainik Asam and several other dailies published in the state. He has published several books in Assamese. Geetartha was a member of the Press Council of India from 2001 to 2004. He has been awarded a media fellowship by CSE in 2003-4. Geetartha can be contacted at geetarthapathak@hotmail.com.

Rai, Sanjay: Sanjay is a diplomatic and political correspondent-cum-analyst based in New Delhi with the Hindi daily Veer Arjun since 1998. He holds a master's degree in Botany and a B Ed from Mumbai, Maharashtra. He can be reached at virarjun@vsnl.com

Rao, Raka Sudhakar: A journalist for the last nine years, Raka has written for Vaaritha, Hindi Milap and Deccan Chronicle in Telugu, Hindi and English respectively on various issues including development, environment and pollution control. He was the consultant editor for Jagriti, a Telugu weekly, for its 250-page special issue on environment and pollution published in 2001. He also brought out a monthly development oriented bulletin Panchayat Unnati covering grassroots stories on community initiatives and innovations. Raka, who is a Senior Correspondent with the New Indian Express in Rajahmundry, has been working amongst communities in the North East and written five books on the region. He can be mailed at rakasudhakar@rediff.com

Rehman, Khalid: Khalid has been working as a mass communications professional for the last 26 years. He is in charge of the science and technology pages of the Dawn, a daily published from Karachi, Pakistan. He was previously a Senior Sub Editor for Dawn. He holds a degree in journalism from the Almeda University, Atlanta, USA. He also has experience in the field of advertising having headed creative departments of advertising agencies. He can be reached at science@dawn.com

Sah, Rajiv Lochan: A journalist for the last 32 years, Rajiv edits the Hindi fortnightly, Nainital Samachar, published from Nainital in Uttaranchal. He occasionally writes columns for Hindi dailies like Amar Ujala, Jagran, and Navbharat Times. He is also a correspondent for the Press Trust of India. He can be reached at ntl_samachar@rediffmail.com

Samath, Feizal: Feizal is Business Editor of the Sunday Times and Colombo correspondent of IPS (Inter Press Service). His journalism career spans 25 years, in which he has worked for Sri Lankan newspapers (Sun, Weekend, Daily Mirror and The Island), Reuters (Colombo and India) and Bloomberg, covering issues from sports, culture, entertainment, courts, political and business to development and social issues. Feizal can be reached at fsamath@lanka.ccom.lk

Shajan, Bindu: Bindu is a Staff Reporter with The Hindu in its Delhi office. She has been covering issues of environment, wildlife, health and culture since 2002. Previously, she was covering environment and health for The Asian Age and the Delhi Mid-Day. She can be contacted at bindu@thehindu.co.in

Sharma, Ashok: Ashok is a Senior Correspondent with The Financial Express, the financial daily of the Indian Express group. He can be reached at ashok_b_sharma@hotmail.com

Sharma, Rachna: Rachna is a Reporter in the Hindi daily, Dainik Jagran since 2003 in Delhi. She has also freelanced for Hindustan. She holds a diploma in journalism from Delhi University. Rachna can be reached at rachna_sarangi@yahoo.co.in

Shridhar, Lalitha: Lalitha is a freelance development journalist based in Delhi and reporting on issues related to gender and development, globalisation, human rights, sustainable development, health and science. She contributes to various news agencies and websites including Inter Press Service, Women's Feature Service, One World Asia, India Together, The Hoot, etc. She has, in the past, contributed to national dailies like The Times of India and Business Standard. She has won an award in the Social Development Category of the Developing Asia Journalism Awards, 2004. Lalitha can be reached at sridhars@md4.vsnl.net.in

Singh, Ashutosh: Ashutosh is the district correspondent at Sonbhadra of the Hindi daily, Jagruk Express, published from Varanasi, Uttar Pradesh. He holds a graduate degree from the University of Allahabad. He can be reached at ashutoshsingh@hotmail.com

Singh, Rana Pratap: Rana Pratap has been a reporter with Prabhat Khabar, a Hindi daily published from Ranchi in Jharkhand. In the past five years, he has covered development-related issues ranging from forests, water resources to administration and education. He is reachable at ranapratap007@rediffmail.com

Sinha, Ashish: Ashish is Senior Correspondent with the web edition of Brand Equity, The Economic Times (of the Times of India group) in New Delhi. He has been covering advertising and media for the last four years. He has also worked with exchange4media.com and A&M magazine. He has also been involved with television having worked with DD News and Zee News. Ashish holds a Post Graduate Diploma in Mass Communication. He can be reached at ashish.sinha@timesgroup.com

Sivadas, Deeju: Deeju has been working with Varthamanam, a Malayalam daily in Thiruvananthapuram, since 2003, covering state politics, environment and development issues, and sports. He also covered the issue of pesticides in soft drinks. Deeju holds a diploma in journalism from the Manorama School of Communication, Kerala. He can be reached at deeju@rediffmail.com

Surjan, Palash: Palash is the Joint Managing Director of the Deshbandhu group of publications; he has been looking after the Bhopal edition of the paper since 1992. He has been associated with the marketing, management and editorial departments of the Hindi daily for the last two decades. He can be reached at palashsurjan@sify.com

Talib, Arjimand Hussain: Arjimand is Development Editor for Daily Greater Kashmir, an English newspaper published from Srinagar in Jammu and Kashmir. He is also the executive editor of Globe Kashmir, an infotech magazine published from Kashmir. He was awarded the CSE media fellowship on 'Making Water Everybody's Business' in 2002-2003. He can be reached at ahtalib@rediffmail.com